

You know you live in Alberta when the season changes while you blink. As it happened, fall showed up over night; though it took us a little longer at It's A Crock to make the same transition. But as they say, when it rains (if you live in Alberta) it drizzles for days and days and days until everything is so sopping wet you don't know what to do. I know Sandra told me there would be a lot of boxes coming in, shipments in abundance, but even SHE underestimated what happens when you get upwards of 60 boxes a day (yes, everyday). What does all this mean for you, you may ask? New product, new product, new product! Our fall section is overflowing with the abundance of the season: from rich and cozy tones and textures, to spooky and entertaining accents for a Halloween theme. We have so much new home décor, you'll want to start decorating your home all over again.

As promised, our new line of furniture has arrived and has met with huge success. In all honesty, the pictures didn't do the pieces any justice. There are no words to describe them, so you'll just have to come in and see for yourself. We are currently taking orders, but quantities are limited. Don't miss this truly unique opportunity.

(Disclaimer: We are not responsible for any amount of debt incurred from shopping in our store. We are also not responsible for any delirium, hysteria, irrational or reckless behavior that may occur from over stimulation while in It's A Crock Country Store.)

Anyone waiting for our candles to be restocked, wait no longer. We have received the order we've been expecting and have all your favorites waiting for you. We are also bringing in a new line of candles which, we've been informed, is on its way. (I guess that means I won't be getting a coffee break next week either!)

So as you can see there is a lot to look forward to. We can't help but be excited for Christmas, as stock comes in daily, and unpacking (unwrapping) occupies most of our time. The Christmas Open House (November 4th and 5th) feels like it's just around the corner!

If you need me, I'll be in the back room making a cardboard fort!
